

Escape room „Speaking“

1. All participants have their mouths tied before entering the room to prevent them from speaking.
2. A man leads them and closes the door from inside.
3. There is a tied-up man in the room with his mouth also taped.
4. A voice recording will sound, telling them the instructions. Meanwhile, the one who locked the room unobtrusively gives the key to the tied man who hides it.
5. The room is scattered with pictures that, when glued to one another, you see the cover of a book.
6. You should look for the book in the room.
7. At the back of the cropped image is the page number, line number, and the letter you have to find.
8. There is a figure at the indicated page in the book which instructs them to translate a given word (table) into German using a dictionary
9. The table is the next trace and a note with an equation is stuck to the bottom of the table.
10. When they solve the equation, they get the code of one of the padlocks that opens a locker.
11. In the closet they find a secret box that they have to open.
12. This box contains a note containing the code of the locked man's lock.
13. They release the bound man and he thanks for their help by giving them the key to the room.
14. They get out of the room, remove the patches and win.

Evaluation:

interesting: *****

entertaining: ***

communicative: **

educating: *****

funny: *****

interactive: ***

supporting imagination: *****